

Mayor Report

9th December

It was with heartfelt gratitude to everyone who gathered at The Red Lion Hotel Atherstone for the Raffle and showing incredible support for our Ediblelinks fundraiser. I truly admire our community's generosity knows no bounds, as we successfully raised a remarkable £328.79! Santa's visit, contributing £173.79, and a fabulous raffle, yielding £155, added to the festive atmosphere. Immense thanks to The Red Lion and their exceptional staff. The live raffle draw on my Facebook page, hosted with Laura Donnelly and her mom, was a highlight, and winners had been contacted by myself and the Atherstone Partnership. I want to also show my gratitude also to local businesses for their generous donations, including The Red Lion and Atherstone Partnership, making this event a resounding success.

It was an absolute pleasure meeting the incredibly talented artists of Atherstone. Being invited to judge the Christmas card competition was a true honour. Atherstone boasts amazing artistic talent, and I must admit, selecting winners proved to be a challenging task, given the outstanding quality of all the entries.

I had the pleasure of attending the A Town Sound event at St Mary's Church on December 14th, an enchanting celebration hosted by the talented Christine Jones. The festive atmosphere reverberated with the joy of Christmas and a strong sense of community spirit.

The event showcased an array of performers, each displaying endless talent that added to the overall vibrancy of the evening. The choir's performance was nothing short of incredible, delivering a captivating blend of emotional, happy, and humorous moments that left a lasting impression on the audience.

The festive ambiance, combined with the exceptional talent on display, made this event a remarkable celebration of both Christmas and community spirit. It was a delightful evening that brought people together through the power of music and shared joy.

It was a pleasure meeting the new Store Manager, Nat, and I was absolutely thrilled to inaugurate the new Tesco store in Atherstone as Mayor! This new addition brings excitement to our town, offering a brilliant new establishment to welcome. It warms my heart to see familiar faces from the old Co-op now part of the Tesco team. I truly Wish them every success and eagerly anticipating the positive impact this new venture will have on our community in 2024.
