Families, friends, and spectators from near and far united in celebration of our cherished tradition.

Special Ball Ceremony:

At precisely 15:00 GMT, I had the honour of presiding over the ceremonial release of the specially crafted ball from the balcony, a moment that symbolizes the commencement of our beloved event. The ball, thrown by none other than Atherstone-born comedian Josh Pugh, descended into the awaiting crowd amidst cheers and applause, marking the beginning of spirited competition.

Competition and Celebration:

Throughout the afternoon, participants demonstrated remarkable athleticism, determination, and sportsmanship as they engaged in the spirited contest for possession of the ball. Amidst the fervour and excitement, the camaraderie among competitors and spectators alike served as a testament to the unifying power of this time-honoured tradition.

Victory of Alex Young:

After hours of intense competition, I am pleased to announce that Alex Young emerged as the victor of the 824th Atherstone Ball Game. His exemplary skill, strategic acumen, and unwavering dedication exemplify the qualities that define our community's spirit of resilience and sportsmanship.

Conclusion:

As the sun set on another successful Atherstone Ball Game, I am filled with gratitude for the unwavering support and enthusiasm demonstrated by our community. The 824th edition of this historic event stands as a testament to the enduring legacy of our town and the indomitable spirit of its residents.
